

Trainee Sales & Trading (f/m/d)

We are looking for ambitious and talented individuals that desire to be part of the steel industry as backbone supplier to the world's largest industrial sectors such as Oil and Gas, Automotive and Construction.

The Salzgitter Group of Companies is one of Europe's leading steel and technology groups employing around 24,000 employees.

Working with us means you are not only part of an industry that serves the needs of our customers, no - you will be in the driving seat pushing the green deal towards your own future! You wonder how steel and environmental protection goes together?

Be invited to visit our climate protection initiative SALCOS® (Salzgitter Low CO2 Steelmaking; <https://salcos.salzgitter-ag.com>). Find out how we are working towards a climate neutral steel production. This concept is a game-changer for our climate.

Salzgitter Mannesmann International is the trading organization within the Salzgitter Group. We are not only bridging imbalances of supply and demand. Our business connects people and cultures, we listen, understand and build international partnerships. As such you will be a business creator and enabler. Trading is a people's business and requires a unique set of skills that includes the willingness to take on responsibility, negotiation skills and an emphatic personality to form personal relationships.

At Salzgitter, we pride ourselves in job security and long-term commitments to employees and business partners alike.

In our 18-month trainee program you will get to know the exciting, multifaceted and international world of steel trading.

If all this sounds interesting, challenging and fits to your desire to work with a highly motivated, multicultural and international team then realize your potential and join our trainee program.
