- Continuous monitoring of our OT systems regarding security-relevant events
- Monitoring and implementation of continuous updates and patches
- Preparation of product presentations and technical trainings

Your Qualifications

- Completed technical studies, alternatively completed professional training with several years of experience
- Deep interest in security trends in the areas of OT and IoT
- Experience in the area of cyber security and/or software development
- Knowledge of common cyber security standards, such as IEC 62443 or ISO 27001 would be advantageous
- Hands-on mindset, independent and structured way of working
- Team player with a strong sense of responsibility and a solution-oriented way of thinking
- Language proficient both in German and English

Benefits

- An interesting and diverse scope of activities in an international team
- A permanent full-time or part-time position
- An attractive remuneration in accordance with the collective labor agreement as well as a wide range of additional company benefits
- A flexible working hours scheme and the possibility to work from home to enable a work-life balance
